

CHUMP

American friends attend to me
For this day goes down in history
If today you feel you've won
I wish you everything to come
I hope you watch in sheer delight
To see your country burning bright
To watch so great and free a land made waste by clumsy bigot hands.
Of our mistake you took no heed
But joined right in with blinding speed
To stoke the fires racism feeds
The hate, the fear, the crime, the greed
From history books you learned no lesson
That walls bring nothing but oppression
That blood is spilt in their great cause
And all for what? They always fall.
I wish you well, I really do
For we shall suffer as will you.
To those who voted to be free of hate speech and misogyny who wanted more for your great nation
Than this political aberration
I wish you best of all my dears
As you buckle up for the next four years.

PS: There's always Canada.
